About This Game

CYBORG RAGE

Cyborg Rage is a multiplayer coop space shooter that is all about cooperative online action: Work with your brave wingman to destroy all enemy starships or be destroyed! Master the advantages of your ship class to withstand your enemies!

Cyborg Rage is your source for fast-paced action, massive explosions and a cooperative gameplay core for two pilots that demands good reflexes and fast strategic decisions.

Face the future

The year 3226: The future. Battle Cyborgs were never designed to be smart or develop any kind of self-awareness. They had been produced in masses as expendable military units. It was a time when security was more valuable than freedom. We sent them to the frontlines.

Today, they return.

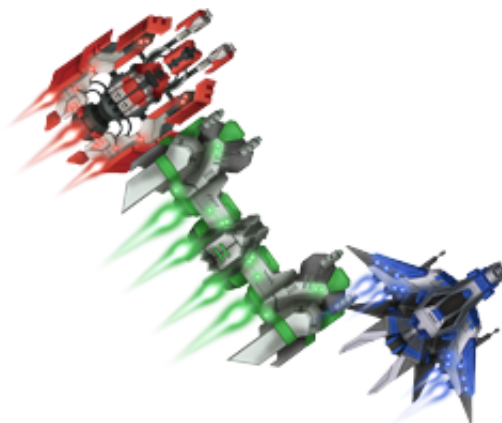

Choose your ship

Combine your ship technologies with those of your wingman for a maximum of cooperation!

Depending on your chosen ship, your arsenal may include a destructive EMP missile, a missile barrage, instant shield rechargers, an electric field, a nano repair impulse, a massive shield, the devouring nuclear missile... and more technologies that will leave your enemies without doubt who is dominating this sector in space.

Pilots unite

Make one of your friends your trusted wingman or let the matchmaking find a player of your skill level to face the challenge together! Just remember: For the moment, you two rely on each other!

This game was terrible, it was extremely short and boring to play. Someone was trying to make a quick cash grab. If the game goes on sale for $0.01 or less then consider picking it up. Otherwise stay away.. I don't recommend this game, this game feels like a mobile\pad game. Your ship shoots automatically and you move by using the mouse only, I should also mention there is no controller support. There are also barely to no settings except music. sound, and preset visual quality.

The concept is there, I like how theree is online co-op, not too many shumps nowawdays with online capabilities. Too many "if only..."s with this game..."if only" this where fleshed out more and were turned into an actually shump, with proper controls and more variety in everything, this game would be really great.

I hate saying this, but I honestly feel you shouldn't purchase this game. It falls short in many areas and does not justify the current price tag. If you really want the game, get it at 75% off or something, not at 50%, 40%, 30%, etc...not worth it.
